

Davis Genealogy Club

JUNE MEETING: MONDAY, JUNE 30, 2008

Local genealogists seek ancestral information from archived newspapers.

DGC LIBRARY REMAINS OPEN TO MEMBERS AND PUBLIC DURING SUMMER MONTHS

People in Davis have a cool, quiet place to wile away hot summer days. The DGC Library will maintain its regular schedule during the months of July and August. Hours are 1 to 4 p.m. on Wednesdays and Fridays. Volunteers are on hand to assist visitors in using library resources. This is an enjoyable way to stay cool and be productive!

DGC PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS USE OF NEWSPAPERS IN GENEALOGY RESEARCH

At their last meeting before the summer hiatus members of the Davis Genealogy Club will hear former Modesto Bee reporter and local genealogy expert, Helen Lucas. Ms. Lucas has taught genealogy at several community colleges in the Sacramento area. Through one of those classes she was instrumental in starting the Roots Cellar Library, now located in the California Archives Building in Downtown Sacramento. Ms. Lucas will share her knowledge and experience in a talk about “Using Newspapers in Genealogy Research.” Pictured below is an example of a newspaper article that might yield clues for genealogists.

MEETING MONDAY, JUNE 30, 2008 • 1 PM

DAVIS SENIOR CENTER • 646 A STREET, DAVIS

Davis Genealogy Club meetings are open to the public and guests are welcome.