

DAVIS GENEALOGY CLUB

JUNE 28, 2010 PROGRAM

Speaker: Susan H. Jackman

The USGenWeb Project consists of a group of volunteers working together to provide Internet websites for genealogical research in every county and every state of the United States. The Project is non-commercial and fully committed to free access for everyone. For many counties, it contains the largest collection of church records, tax records and cemetery records online. You might also find abstracts of wills, military records, marriages, obituaries, maps, and pioneer biographies. This is an incredible collection of records!

In addition, we will also learn how to share and upload a computerized family tree by creating a GEDCOM file and determine why this may be beneficial to family research.

Our speaker, Susan H. Jackman, is a professional genealogist. She served at the Sacramento California Family History Center for nearly 20 years and has written on the subject and lectured extensively in the greater Sacramento area. Susan holds a degree in Family History from Brigham Young University.
