

DAVIS GENEALOGY CLUB

MAY 2014

Irish Research

Speaker: Kim von Aspern-Parker
Professional genealogist and family historian

For those with ancestors from the Emerald Isle, this talk may answer some family questions by helping to uncover relevant records from a myriad of sources. Please join us as we explore the popular topic of Irish Research with an experienced genealogist with a passion for her work.

Kim von Aspern-Parker speaks, teaches, coaches, and blogs about genealogy. She also provides private genealogy investigation services from her Sacramento office. She is a professional genealogist and family historian who has pursued her own family genealogy relentlessly for more than 25 years. Her specialties include beginning genealogy, and research in Louisiana as well as California. Kim is the author of Le Maison Duchamp, a genealogy blog chronicling her research journey. She is a member of the National Genealogy Society, the South West Louisiana Genealogical Society, and the Association for Professional Genealogists.
