A Virtual Tour of the California Room of the California State Library

Speaker: Sandra Harris

Have you ever wondered what resources are available at the newly reopened California Room that can help you find relatives here or across the pond? Do you want to hit paydirt on your family history research? Discover documents, legal materials, maps, California history databases, online resources to newspapers, and more that can lead to family history nuggets. In this Virtual Tour of the California Room of the California State Library, Sandra Harris will show how you can tap into the California Room's resources to uncover clues to move your research forward.

Sandra Harris, an experienced genealogy researcher, has provided research for people all over the world. Because the California Room of the California State Library has so many good resources, Sandra has been able to find many relatives for people in Ireland, Australia, England, Canada, and most of the United States.
