Grandma, Who Are You?

Finding the Maiden Names in Your Family Tree

Speaker: Janice Sellers

Female relatives can be difficult to trace, but they can be found. This presentation introduces resources for tracing the women in your family, and it's helpful to all researchers from beginners to advanced. Resources described include: family items, oral histories, federal and state census records, immigration records, vital records, church records, journals, newspapers, legal and court records, library archives, and manuscript collections.

Janice Sellers is an experienced and passionate genealogist who specializes in newspaper, forensic and Jewish research. She edits three genealogy journals and serves on the boards of the San Francisco Bay Area Jewish Genealogical Society, the African American Genealogical Society of Northern California, and the California State Genealogical Alliance. She has served as an Oakland FamilySearch Library staff member since 2000.
