Your Ancestors are in the NEWSPAPER

Speaker: Pamela Bell Dallas

There is more to newspaper research than obituaries. Newspaper research can be tedious, but anyone can do it and the results can be thrilling. Stories from the newspaper bring life to the ancestors described. Add this skill to your family history toolbox. In this exciting presentation, you'll discover the wide variety of information available in newspapers and where to find historic papers.

Pamela Bell Dallas is a professional genealogist, author, and lecturer and has conducted personal and client research for 25 years using a wide variety of repositories and record sources. Her focus is Midwest research, methodology, and unique record sources.
