Clues in the Census Records that Lead to Other Documents

Speaker: Vi Parsons
Certified Genealogist & Author

Have you ever carefully examined a census record showing your ancestors? Come learn how to squeeze as much information as possible from one of the best resources available. The US Federal census began in 1790, and data is currently available up through 1940. Online images of these sometimes inscrutable original handwritten documents are fascinating and provide invaluable data, but in addition, they can offer us clues to more records to hunt down!

Vi Parsons is certified and accredited in genealogy by Brigham Young University and the National Genealogical Society of Virginia. She has been a teacher/lecturer since 1993 and a researcher for more than 45 years. Vi has documented her ancestors to the early 1600s. She is a member of the International Society of Family History Writers and Editors and has authored several books on her Dragoo family history.
